

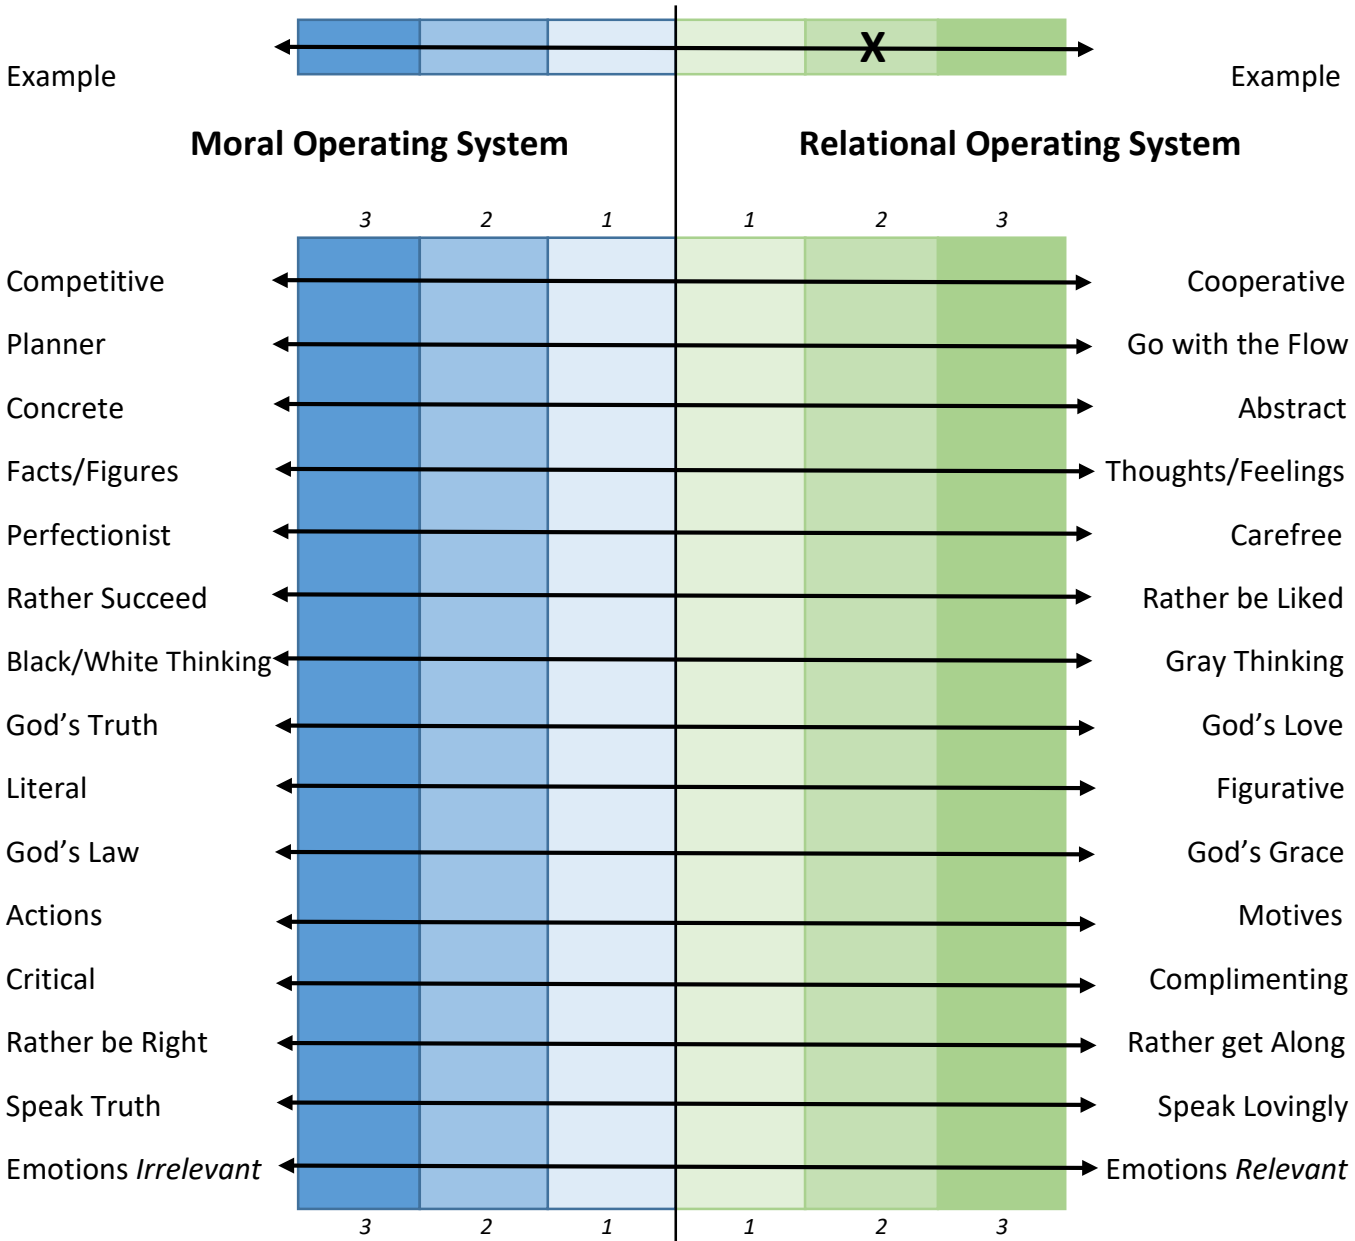

IMAGE INVENTORY

Place an 'x' on the scale where you believe is an accurate reflection of the real you (not the ideal you).
When completed, count the number of x's on each side and fill in the number at the bottom.

Add the Columns and place the number of each column in the lines above.

TOTAL "X's" on this side _____ TOTAL "X's" on this side _____

Whichever side has the greatest amount of "X's" is the type of "Operating System" you possess. The darker the color, the less likely you possess any of the opposite side in the particular row.

IMAGE MODEL

MORAL PROCESSORS

RELATIONAL PROCESSORS

INTERPRETIVE LENS—How you see & interpret circumstances

Old Testament Law Emphasis
Truth / Justice / Obedience / Holiness
Right & Wrong / Good & Bad / Black & White
Tangible Rewards & Consequences
Process & Procedures—What & How
Facts & Figures / Actions
Concrete over Abstract

New Testament Grace Emphasis
Love / Mercy / Compassion
Grace & Favor
Intangible Rewards
Priority is Relationship—Who & Why
Emotions & Feelings / Heart
Abstract over Concrete

STRENGTHS

Tend to be Good Workers & Reliable
Good with Facts and Numbers
Many Organized with Self-Discipline
Dedication to Truth
Dedication to Right vs Wrong
Decision Making Simplified
Good with Processes & Procedures

Good with Relationships
Importance of Feelings / Emotions
Empathetic
Compassionate
Dedicated to Love
Nurturing

WEAKNESSES

Tend to be Too Literal
May Not Consider or Understand Feelings
Difficult to Understand Own Emotions
Can be Critical or Judgmental
Decision-Making Too Simple (little emotion)
May Struggle with Intimacy
Insecure Can't Accept Criticism or Blame or Interprets as Criticism & Blame

Emotions / Feelings may Become "Truth"
Decisions are Made by Feelings
God's Truth May take Back Seat to Feelings
More Likely to be People Pleasers
Likely to Take Offense / Be Sensitive
May Withdraw when Rejected
Insecure Needs Acceptance and May Interpret as Rejection

EXTREMES

The Further from "Relational" One is...
...The More "Right" One is
...The More Difficult Intimate Relationships
Will Be
...The More Likely One Will be Physically or Emotionally Abusive (controlling through Anger)

The Further from "Moral" One is...
...The More "Right" One is
...The More Difficult Relationships Will Be
...The More likely to be swayed by opinions
...The More Likely One will be Emotionally
Manipulative (controlling through guilt)